

Energy Traders Europe Biomethane Master Agreement advances Europe's market integration

Brussels, 11.06.2026 – Energy Traders Europe's Legal Committee has published the EFET Biomethane Master Agreement – the first European standard contract covering all three key-biomethane related products.

This important development marks a major step towards creating a more efficient and harmonised European biomethane market, providing a common framework for:

- Biomethane,
- Proof of Sustainability (PoS) and
- Biomethane Certificates.

As highlighted in Energy Traders Europe's recent Integrate by '28 report, the European biomethane market is fragmented, with differing national approaches limiting cross-border trade and slowing market integration. The new EFET Biomethane contract has been developed to help address these challenges by offering a standardised, market-ready structure to facilitate trading across jurisdictions and support the sector's growth.

Speaking on the publication, Michaela Duve, Legal Committee Chair at Energy Traders Europe said: "Standardisation is essential to unlock the full potential of biomethane in Europe. The EFET Biomethane General Agreement represents a significant milestone in supporting market integration and enabling biomethane to play a key role in Europe's energy transition. Energy Traders Europe thanks the members of its Legal Committee and all contributors involved in this important achievement."

Energy Traders Europe will continue its work in this area, by preparing additional documentation and through ongoing engagement with market participants, policymakers and stakeholders.

Notes to Editors

EFET General Agreements are framework contracts designed to standardise over-the-counter (OTC) transactions in gas and power trading. The publication of EFET Biomethane incorporates previously developed amendments and credit risk mitigation provisions.

The agreements, like all our standard documentation, are available to anyone active in the market – irrespective of whether they are a member of Energy Traders Europe. They can be found here.
